Students with a significant background in a subject area may request permission to substitute courses where there would be duplication with prior study.

Updated 13-Mar-15

* The generic label "MTH 889" will be replaced with a course designation that fits the student's specialization area. Thus NT and OT specialization students will take BIB 889, those concentrating in theology will take THS 889, etc. In each case the same actual course is in view.

 MTH 894 and 895 are available as-needed to maintain student status before or after formal thesis registration.
